This is a ‘special edition’ that only covers the NBDA’s first ever Senior Citizens Reunion that was held the October of last year. All the photos used in this newsletter were taken by the photographer Harold Williams. Mr. Williams took approximately 400 photos and video taped several events that are planned to include in the creation of DVD/CD for fundraising. All proceeds from sales will go to the NBD Senior Citizens fund to help defray the costs of future senior citizens activities.

The first ever NBDA Senior Citizens Reunion was held in Orlando, Florida on October 13 – 16, 2011 at the beautiful Residence Inn-Orlando Convention Center located less than a mile from the popular Disney Universal Studio. The event was hosted by the NBDA Senior Citizens Program, one of the seven programs of the National Black Deaf Advocates. The theme was, “Coming Together to Do More, Learn More, and Live More”

The reunion drew more than 140 people from 20 different states. A number of people under age 55 bought their senior parents to the event. Also, a few young adults came and volunteered their services when help was needed.

On behalf of NBDA and the senior citizens reunion planning committee, I would like to thank those of you who attended the reunion last October.

We hope you had a wonderful time and returned back home safely.

We wish you all a healthy and prosperous 2012.
Special thanks goes to the Residence Inn-Orlando Convention Center and their staff for their wonderful hospitality and service during the reunion. The hotel provided us with 118 blocks room at a discount rate of $89 and $99 per night including complimentary a breakfast each morning and a complimentary dinner during their Monday to Thursday social night.

Each guest room featured full kitchen with stove, microwave, refrigerator, coffee/tea maker, sofa beds, separate sitting area and climate control. Free on-site parking and Internet access.

Five hotel staff working at the reception desk volunteered to participated in an American Sign Language/deaf culture session that was given by the NBDA Senior Citizens Program a day before the reunion started. Those attended were surprised and inspired to know that some of the staff at the check-in reception knew some of the basic signs. Everyone enjoyed their stay at the Residence Inn-Orlando Convention Center.

Attending the NBDA Senior Citizens Reunion along with members of my church, (Margaret, Carrie, and Ernestine-Shiloh Baptist Church, Washington, DC) was the best reunion ever!

What a time ... what a time! Since I too have become a senior citizen sign language interpreter (over the age of 50), attending the reunion allowed me to “reconnect” with friends I had not seen in years! The reunion also allowed me to make new friends. A number of seniors remembered me from my early years of interpreting for NBDA. My first interpreting job was with NBDA was at the 1986 NBDA Conference in Detroit. Information gained from the senior citizens reunion held in Florida was truly revealing and enlightening. Tom Samuels’ presentation along with input from Lottie Crook and Chuck Williams regarding the early years of NBDA was priceless! To also see Ms. Ida Hampton presentation/interview, the first Black Deaf female to graduate from Gallaudet, was truly informative. She spoke of her experiences at Gallaudet in the early 1950’s. Thank you committee for a job WELL DONE! We are all look forward to attending the next reunion.
Ida Hampton is credited as the first Black Deaf woman to graduate from Gallaudet University. More than 100 people attended “A Conversation with Ida Hampton”, that took place at the Comfort Inn banquet room less than a mile from the Residence Inn-Orlando Convention Center. Ida entered Gallaudet University in September 1952 and graduated in May 1957 with a B.A. in Education. After graduation she got a position as a teacher of the deaf at the Florida School for the Deaf and Blind in St. Augustine Florida. After earning a Master of Education degree from the University of North Florida in Special Education of Children with learning disabilities, she joined the school’s Multi-handicapped Department for 8 years. After 2 years as a pre-school teacher she ended 32 years of teaching in May 1989.

During the conversation, she mentioned the barriers she had to overcome as a Black Deaf female during the academic years at Gallaudet University and what she accomplished. Many who attend the event were students she taught at the Florida School for the Deaf and Blind in St. Augustine. They were delighted to see her again. After the conversation ended, she chatted with her former students and posed for pictures with members of the audience. Ida Hampton is a remarkable woman and a true pioneer.

Dinner for the event was donated and served by the Florida Special Interest group.

Ida Hampton is surrounded with several interpreters who interpreted Friday night’s “A Conversation with Ida Hampton”.

Harold Williams, a professional video/photography from New York City who was hired by the Black deaf senior citizens program took approximately 400 digital photos of individuals, groups, and activities during the reunion. 200 of the best photos will be selected to create a beautiful and professional looking DVD slide that we hope to complete and be on sale in sometime in February.

Harold also, videotaped five selective events and activities for a total of five 60 minutes DV video tapes. Because of the time consuming for reviewing and editing, the videotape will not be completed until the early part of spring.

All proceeds from the DVD purchases will go to the NBDA Senior Citizen Program fund to help defray costs of future senior citizens activities.

For future information on the photo & video DVD, please continue to check the NBDA web site (nbda.org).

NBDA Senior Citizens give special Thanks to Interpreters who help contribute to the success of the Black Deaf Senior Citizens Reunion by volunteer their services. A big hand wave goes to Angela Roth, Marvin Molinedo, Anthony Demery, Vavia Buckman Sherry Hudson, Carlos Grant and others we may have missed.

COMING SOON! .... A REUNION PHOTO DVD
A “NBDA History” workshop was held Friday morning with more than 75 people attended. Thomas Samuels was the presenter. Lottie Crook and Chuck Williams provided corrections and in-depth information related to how and why NBDA was established in 1982.

Chuck Williams explained his reasons for filing a class action suit against the National Democratic and Republic Convention for refusal to televise sign language interpreter for linguistic accessibility during the convention, and the barriers he overcame during the proceeding.

Lottie Crook talked about the five other NBDA founders (Chuck Williams, Ernest Hairston, Linwood Smith, Ann Wilson, Willard Shorter) who played a major role in helping establish the organization. She emphasized how Deaf Pride became the key player and the contributions and support from others.
